

Farm Bureau gives pair scholarships

By Sarah Michalos

Source:

Daily Journal Daily Journal

July 9, 2011

, Section: Features, Page B1

Angela Abney and Gracelyn Light received $1,000 scholarships from the Johnson County Farm Bureau.

Abney, a 2011 graduate of Franklin Community High School, is a 10-year 4-H member and was active in the Franklin FFA. She plans to attend Purdue University and hopes to become a 4-H/youth extension educator. She is the daughter of Douglas and Sherry Fabina-Alvey.

Light, daughter of Larry and Maggie Light, is a 2011 graduate of Indian Creek High School. She plans to attend Purdue or Ball State University and major in multimedia.

The recipients will be recognized at the Johnson County fair awards program.

Scholarships are awarded annually to graduates who are children of Farm Bureau members.

The Greater Greenwood Arts Council recognized high school students for their artwork at the Greenwood Freedom Festival.

Greenwood library patrons voted for a month on their favorite student work. Winners were:

Billy Hale, Center Grove High School, first place

Sarah Carmen, Greenwood Community High School, and Mary Bentley, Center Grove High School, tied for second place

Jacquelyn Mitchell, Greenwood Community High School, fourth place.

Amanda Tresslar of Franklin was selected as one of two state showmanship delegates for the National Junior Angus Showmanship Contest.

Tresslar was chosen at the 2011 Indiana Angus Association Junior Preview Show on June 12.

She will show Angus cattle at the national competition in July in Harrisburg, Pa.

A 2010 graduate of Franklin Community High School, Tresslar attends Vincennes University. She has been showing cattle for more than 10 years.

Sarah Schulz is an editorial assistant at the Daily Journal. Send information and photos for the People column to sschulz@dailyjournal.net.

Photo Caption: Angela Abney and Gracelyn Light received $1,000 scholarships from the Johnson County Farm Bureau.

Abney, a 2011 graduate of Franklin Community High School, is a 10-year 4-H member and was active in the Franklin FFA. She plans to attend Purdue University and hopes to become a 4-H/youth extension educator. She is the daughter of Douglas and Sherry Fabina-Alvey.